During the past week Carlsbad has been visited twice by the owners and representatives of the gas well located a couple of miles this side of Dayton. They came to ask the board of trustees for a franchise to pipe the gas through the town. The board met Tuesday night and examined an ordinance the gas people had drafted, and which seemed to be too one sided to consider seriously, for it did not even provide for the pipes to be laid under ground. It also contained other very objectionable features. The board proposed several amendments and the gas people agreed to draft another ordinance to incorporate the amendments. After this is done the franchise will probably be granted and the pipes laid from the well, which is about twenty-four miles north and west from Carlsbad. Quite a number have been up to the well and all confirm the statements made by the Roswell paper. The pressure is very strong and if it continues will furnish gas for all the towns in the lower valley and possibly Roswell also.

While talking with an old timer the other day, the usual remarks on the fine condition of the range were passed. "But," said the old timer, "the range will not last because as soon as it dries some careless camper or mischievous boy will start a fire and all the fine grass will burn off and hundreds of cattle and sheep will die for want of grass in the spring. "Why," said he "the grass is high enough to mow and make excellent hay; such grass will never be allowed to remain and feed the stock. People who can should not fail to plow fire guards and protect the feed that is so valuable and now is the time to commence, while the ground is in condition to plow."

While court is in session is a good time to talk about expenses. There is not a county in Texas that expends as much for entire running expense as Eddy county does on its court matters alone. It is nothing unusual to expend $6,000 on a single term of court, and it is said some of the largest and most populous counties in Texas are conducted a whole year on less than $12,000. All efforts looking towards economy in court matters should be appreciated by the already overburdened taxpayer and should Judge Pope at this term make a record in reducing the expense to a minimum he should receive full credit for his effort making.

Boyd Hill returned from a trip to Snyder, Texas, Saturday evening. He says that his son Wiley or Wild Horse Hill, has nothing of a serious nature charged against him, that the foolish lies to the effect that Wiley was charged with rape, kidnapping, and horse theft are absurd and untrue in every particular, that the only shadow of a charge is based on an indictment charging Wiley with stealing a horse near Snyder, Texas. This charge was trumped up he says, and has no truth in it, for the man whose horse was stolen says that he does not believe Wiley stole him. When Wiley arrived he was immediately turned loose on a $1,000 bond and Mr. Hill further says he has no fears of Wiley ever being convicted for the stories told about him are all about on a par with the report that he had stolen forty head of horses in Eddy county. He says that Wiley was never even accused by any of abduction or rape, and that story was made out of whole cloth, the only foundation for it being the fact that Wiley had taken a little girl from the T & P train to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hudgins in Pecos, where she remained and that Wiley then came up here.

To Develop Carlsbad Springs.
A large and enthusiastic meeting of citizens was held in the Commercial Club rooms last Tuesday evening to consider a proposition looking to the development of the great Carlsbad Springs, the water of which has already become well known as a cure for stomach and kidney troubles. It is proposed to improve the place at an expense of $65,000. A committee was appointed to confer with the citizens generally and form a stock company for development.

E. D. Kornegay, of Monument, came in Sunday to attend court and was followed in Tuesday by his wife who came to bring their youngest son, Earl, who had been thrown by a jack falling while running, breaking the boy's arm.

Thousands of Rural Mail Routes.
There are 37,728 rural free delivery routes in the United States, which means an approximate distance of 1,000,000 miles traveled daily by the carriers.

Those Election Frauds.
The resolutions adopted by the recent democratic convention of Colfax county contain a scathing denunciation of the election frauds which have been perpetrated in that county. The following plank gives a true picture of the situation:
"We ask that in the name of decency to our American institutions and the principles and form of government under which our country sprung into existence, that the foreign element, Austrians, Montenegrins and Italians, who have never taken the oath of allegiance to our government and who have nothing in common with our citizens, be not allowed to be herded and voted like cattle and sheep to swell the fraudulent republican majorities in our noble county of Colfax, as was done by the republican bosses at the last three elections, voting as they did over one thousand illegal votes and counting them for the republican ticket in the election of November, 1906, and we challenge them to produce the truth to the contrary."

The resolutions also condemn the manner in which the sheriff's office of the county has been conducted in permitting deputies to drive from the coal camp precincts upon election day the legally authorized challengers of the democratic party. The district attorney is likewise condemned for permitting one thousand illegal votes to be counted at the election of November, 1906, and no effort being made to punish the illegal voters or the parties who were responsible for having the same cast.

The statements officially made by the democrats of Colfax county in convention assembled certainly refute the poor apologies being made by the republican press, that no election frauds were committed in New Mexico two years ago.
